"Physical Environment and Health"

REPORT

08.04.2026

The National Service Scheme (NSS) Units I & II, Kings College of Engineering, organized an awareness programme titled "Physical Environment and Health" at 2.00 p.m. in Chera Hall. The programme was conducted with the objective of educating students about the close relationship between the physical environment and human health. The session aimed to create awareness on environmental conservation, personal hygiene, sanitation, waste management, and sustainable practices that contribute to a healthier society.

The resource person Dr.M.Pugazhenthi, NSS Programme officer delivered an informative session on how environmental factors such as air pollution, water contamination, poor sanitation, improper waste disposal, and climate change affect human health. 100 Students were encouraged to adopt eco-friendly habits, conserve natural resources, maintain clean surroundings, and actively participate in environmental protection activities.

The programme concluded with an interactive discussion and a pledge by the participants to protect the environment and promote healthy living. The programme was successfully organized by Dr.M.Pugazhenthi and Mr. S. Ambalatharasu, NSS Programme Officers.

Outcome of the Programme

The programme enhanced students' awareness of the importance of maintaining a clean and healthy environment. It motivated participants to adopt sustainable practices, protect natural resources, and promote environmental responsibility among their families and communities, thereby contributing to a healthier and greener society.
